

In alignment with our mission to provide access to education to all who have a desire and will to learn, Colorado State University affirms and upholds the values of diversity, equity, and inclusion. Any act of hate or bias is counter to the university's Principles of Community.

Anyone can make a report about a perceived bias-related incident connected to the university community. If you believe you have experienced bias or have witnessed bias firsthand, please fill out the report form at:

biasreporting.colostate.edu

To ensure accurate tracking and assessment of bias that occurs at CSU, we ask for the CSU community's support in submitting all bias incidents through this reporting mechanism. Additional information about the bias reporting system is available via the website.
